Gaicty Club.

Mr. W. H. CRISP, the enterprising Manager of the Guiety Theatre, in this city, proposes the fomation of a Focial Club, under the name of the Gaicty Club. The design of the association is to furnish innocent and pleasurable recreation from the ordinary labors of its members. The membership is limited to tifty; is to have officers, elected by the members, and such rules and regulations as will most effectually accomplish the objects sought. Mr. CRISP has already fitted up in very handsome style, a club room, in the third story of the Tocal tre, which is to be supplied with the newspapers of the city, and those of the principal cities of the Union. Lunch will be served to members each day, and every other accessory to comfort necessary. It is intended to be a social resort for gentlemen, where they can spend an hour each day profitably and pleasantly. Why may we not have a Gile's or a Wills' in Nashville, such even as Addison and Steele had in London,
